Principal's Letter

As you head towards graduation, our country is in the midst of one of the greatest economic downturns it has experienced in decades. Things are changing at such a rapid pace, and it seems almost impossible for many people to survive financially. According to an old English proverb, "Necessity is the mother of invention". Fortunately, you have been the consumers during much of this change, and out of necessity have developed the ability interact with your environment in successful ways. As your teachers and families look towards your next steps, I am comforted by the fact that someone within your ranks could hold the solution to new economic prosperity. Our future depends on your creativity, persistence and desire to succeed. We count on you to navigate the new, high tech, high speed economy.

This year you have also witnessed history with the election of this nation's first African American President. Incredibly, this process has taken our country almost two-hundred years to complete. I wonder if Abraham Lincoln realized that his historic Emancipation Proclamation would lead this great country to many firsts in the quest to make all men and women equal. You have worked hard and must realize that the greater challenges lie ahead. We have laid out the tools before you throughout your school career. No time in history is more important that the future of our world. Will you be a problem solver? Will you prosper beyond all of our dreams? Only time will tell. I look forward to the results of your hard work and wish you all the best. Be thoughtful. Take the time to see the little things and most of all be there for others! Good luck!

Mr. Tracy

Mr. Fred Shine

Wilmington High School Class of 1967

During September 2008, Mr. Shine was good enough to visit with a few of the English and Social Studies classes here at Wilmington High School. Whether reading The Things They Carried (the 2009 Wilmington Reads book) or learning about the war in their history textbooks, Wilmington students were given a first-hand account of Mr. Shine's experiences during the late 1960s. In addition to his own, Mr. Shine shared stories of his high school classmates—John A. Rich, John J. Fullerton Jr., Robert W. Parent, and Richard W. Welch—all who lost their lives in Vietnam.

In addition to his day spent speaking with students, Mr. Shine has been involved in a number events with the WHS student body, including a football game tribute to his good friend Jack Fullerton back in November and a guest appearance for the Wilmington Reads program in March.

Mr. Shine, thank you so much for sharing your stories with us all. This dedication is but a small token of our appreciation.

Senior Class History

The Class of 2009 experienced an adventure through its four years at Wilmington High School. With different class officers elected each year along with four different class advisors, each year consisted of various fundraisers, activities, and events. The Class of 2009 achieved great success and made grand contributions during their time at Wilmington High School.

Although freshman year was a huge transition to a completely new surrounding, the Class of 2009 entered the high school with a bang. Class elections initiated the year, with President Corinne Sartoris, Vice President Kenny Vassallo, Treasurer Liz Crupi, and Secretary Allison Yee. While the nation faced devastating effects from Hurricane Katrina, numerous students aided recovering families in New Orleans through mission trips and fundraisers. On a different note, New England was overjoyed with the Patriot's victory against the Eagles in the Super Bowl. As the year progressed, the Class of 2009 witnessed their first Spirit Week, with Hawaiian Day as the Class Day theme. The Class of 2009 was excited with all of the new experiences at the high school. With the help of the class advisors, Mrs. Martell and Mrs. Bavuso, the officers thought of great ideas for fundraisers that would kick off their journey through high school. Towards the end of the year, the class participated in planning the traditional Spring Fling, which was a great hit. As the Class of 2009 became more than comfortable in the school, it was no doubt that they were going to achieve great things and accomplish many goals.

The Class of 2009 had a very productive sophomore year. Despite the dreaded sophomore research paper, everyone enjoyed the year. Newly elected President Joe Cerbone proved to be a beneficial addition to the existing officers. Fundraisers began with the selling of glow sticks during the spring fling dance and continued for many other events. Hacky sacks made a come back as the "in" activity to play after lunch in the courtyard. Moreover, many bought the Class of 2009 t-shirt to help support upcoming events. During the spring of 2007, students experienced Wilmington High School's very first Culture Festival hosted by the Foreign Language Club. As the year wound down, the class officers began recruiting class representatives to help with the major events for junior and senior year.

Junior year was truly exciting and tremendously hectic for the Class of 2009. As the United States economy struggled with a recession, the class was busy with the SATs and ACTs, college explorations, and scholarship applications. However, everyone took a break to celebrate the Red Sox win the 2007 World Series against the Rockies and the Celtic's 17th NBA Championship against the Lakers. Even Wilmington High School's own varsity soccer and basketball teams made it into the state tournaments. Furthermore, everyone was ecstatic to watch Wilmington's own Varsity Boys Hockey team compete in the state championship at the TD Banknorth Garden. During spirit week, the class enjoyed their original Class Day theme of Wacky Tacky Day. Welcoming the newly elected Vice President Nick Monteforte and Treasurer Lee Joan Villafuerte into the team, President Joe Cerbone and Secretary Allison Yee began to prepare an exciting Junior year, working to plan an unforgettable prom. With Ms. Bavuso's retirement from the previous year, Ms. Smith joined Mrs. Martell as the other class advisor. Together, the team of officers and advisors worked diligently with the class representatives to plan numerous fundraisers in addition to selling glow sticks, hacky sacks, and class t-shirts. The cookie-dough fundraiser was a delicious success that satisfied everyone. Bake sales and Fuddruckers nights became fundraising trademarks for the Class of 2009. The year culminated to a beautiful and memorable Junior Prom at the Tewksbury Country Club. Aside from the snow on this late March day, the Junior Prom was a success due to the tremendous help from the prom committee. In lieu of prom favors, the Class of 2009 donated the funds to the Justin O'Neil Scholarship. With their last year of high school approaching, the Class of 2009 enjoyed their last summer vacation while in high school.

The Class of 2009 certainly cherished their 2008-2009 year as seniors at Wilmington High School. As the school began to prepare for the accreditation process, the Class of 2009 worked hard to finish their last year of studies including the newly introduced VHS classes. The English classes were busy studying a novel related to the Vietnam War as the Moving Wall visited Wilmington for several days. Wilmington High School's Class of 2009 had the unique opportunity to partake in a tailgate party hosted by Vietnam War veteran Fred Shine as a reunion for his own Class of 1967. While President Joe Cerbone, Vice President Nick Monteforte, Treasurer Lee Joan Villafuerte, and Secretary Allison Yee were re-elected from the previous year, Mrs. Santana made a great addition as advisor to the Class of 2009 with Mrs. Martell. The year moved quickly starting with spirit week and the pep rally in early fall. Then the Class of 2009 prepared for the Prom Fashion Show with immense assistance from Val Crampton and Ericka Beraldi. Continuing previous fundraisers, the class sold cookie dough once again, dined at Fuddruckers, and managed several bake sales. Following the t-shirt design contest, in which senior Joe Gettler won first place, members of the Class of 2009 purchased their own fierce wildcat senior shirt. Additional successful fundraisers—Royal Dynasty, Senior vs. Staff volleyball and basketball games, and the Senior/Parent Spaghetti Dinner—tremendously helped with the expenses for the year. The Senior Prom at Danversport Yacht Club on May 1st was definitely a night that everyone will remember. Other senior events such as the banquet, lock-in, and the Senior Cookout finale brought the Class of 2009 together for the last time. The people of Wilmington also joined hands as one community to fight against cancer in the town's first annual Relay for Life event of the American Cancer Society. Outside the walls of Wilmington High School, digital cable became a requirement nationwide while Barrack Obama became the first African American president of the United States. It was a truly memorable year and certainly one the Class of 2009 will never forget.

The Class of 2009 has had a great impact on Wilmington High School with their tremendous success and achievements throughout their four years. Every student has transformed from the experience they have encountered during these years. As each student embarks into the world, each will remember the incredible adventure they shared throughout the four years at Wilmington High School.

Starting off the traditional Spirit Week schedule, each graduating class selected a different theme to wear.

Editor-in-Chief Amica Di Mambro and her friend Sam Perkins gave us a sneak preview of this year's prom fashion.

Spirit Week began in grand fashion this year. On the first day, students dressed according to an assigned class theme. The freshmen showed up as their favorite superheroes, the sophomores looked to the Cartoon Network for ideas, the juniors went to work, and the seniors dressed in any type of costume they pleased. Only on Class Day could someone find Teletubbies, giant animals and showers walking the hallways of Wilmington High School.

Even the teachers showed their school spirit by dressing in costume. Mr. Lewis came dressed as one of his favorite authors, Hunter S. Thompson. ▶

Chris Thibault chose to skip the hassle of the student parking lot today and rode an ostrich to school instead.

Kayla Godding, Bridget Griffin, Devon Waite, and Sam Herra show their school spirit (and impressive KISS spirit) for this dress-up day.

Army Day

In keeping with the tradition set over the years, students once again demonstrated their spirit by dressing in military attire.

Marc Shibilia didn't let his broken foot get in the way of celebrating this spirit day!

The second day of Spirit Week paid tribute to the heroes of our country, the men and woman of our armed forces. Students came to school decked out in Army and Navy apparel (some even came disguised as tanks and other military machinery). Although not everyone arrived wearing full military attire, most still showed their spirit by wearing shades of green and brown.

Although surrounded in friends wearing camouflage and military fatigues, some chose a more peaceful direction with their Army Day attire.

Sports Day

As the end of the week came near, students continued to prove their spirit by representing their favorite sports and teams.

▲ Ms. Bellavia shows her school (and team) spirit by heading up this band of dodgeball aficionados for Sports Day!

On the third day of Spirit Week, the halls of WHS were buzzing as big time athletes arrived to school. The City of Champions was well represented but some people built up the courage to wear Yankee apparel. In addition to representing the professional sport teams, it was good to see everyone supporting Wilmington's own sports teams, as well!

Blue and White Day

The pinnacle of Spirit Week, Blue and White Day brings out the true blue in every Wilmington student!

Chris Thibault and Mike DeNufrio stop in the hallway to show off their Blue and White Day style.

Everybody's favorite day, Blue and White Day, concluded this year's Spirit Week with tremendous fanfare. Students were covered head to toe in anything and everything blue and white. From face paint to hats, wigs to props, the make-up and decorations made almost everyone truly unrecognizable! And in grand tradition, the week was capped off with the annual pep rally where the entire student body continued to display their outstanding school spirit!

Mr. and Ms. WHS Competition

Once again, the titles of Mr. and Ms. WHS were up for grabs, and this year's competition was one of the best yet!

The winners of the 2009 Mr. and Ms. WHS Competition were Stephanie Weymouth and Kevin Flanagan.

Held November 13, 2008, the Mr. and Ms. WHS Competition judged contestants based on a variety of criteria, including a talent segment, a display of school spirit, a skit, and an interview with the hosts—Shannon Jones and Cole Carter. All competing in hopes of being crowned this year's Mr. or Ms. WHS, each contestant worked hard to provide a night of laughs and entertainment with a variety of routines including stand-up comedy, parodies of movies and television shows, and even a display of video game talent. Although everyone competing put forth tremendous effort, only two people could win the titles of Mr. and Ms. WHS. In the end, senior Kevin Flanagan and junior Stephanie Weymouth emerged victorious.

Angela Maglione had support from her friends—Jenelle Femino, Kendra Burke, and Kristen Browne—as she re-enacted the "Jingle Bell Rock" scene from Mean Girls.

Anything Goes

WHS Musical

For the last two weeks of January, the WHS Drama Club opened its production of Cole Porter's Anything Goes.

After many months of choreography, learning songs, and memorizing lines; the cast and crew of Anything Goes put on a superb performance. Auditions were in September and the cast started with rehearsals from there. With many late hours of practice, the cast persevered and had a lot of energy to put on the 1920s/1930s rendition of Cole Porter's "Anything Goes." The musical couldn't have been done without the great help of Mr. Jason Luciana, Mr. Chris Desjardins, and Ms. Rachel DiGregorio. The nights of the show were January 23, 24, 30, and 31, 2009. Leadin; roles were played by Ryan Breslin Stephanie Weymouth, Matt Hogan, Shannon Keefe, Jordan Higgs, and Katia Reilly. In the words of Mr. Tracy, it was the "best performance I've ever seen on the WHS stage."

Prom Show | Fashion

Upholding the annual tradition, the Senior and Junior classes hosted a fashion show to kick off the 2009 prom season.

The 2009 Prom Fashion show in February was a fabulous night everyone will certainly remember. The girls looked dazzling in gowns donated by Cache and David's Bridal. Along with their gowns, they showed off some amazing pieces of jewelry donated by Legacy Beads. The guys looked dapper in sleek tuxes of all different styles donated by Mr. Tux. The show went on without a hitch as couples strut their stuff down the runway and displayed this year's elegant prom attire. The Fashion Show was definitely a great way to kick-off the start of the 2009 prom season.

Jimmy DiNuccio—always sporting the best accessories—completely sells these fabulous sunglasses while walking Kayla Godding and Danielle Underwood down the runway. ◀

To kick off the show, Ryan Breslin ▶ and Gabby D'Entremont did an outstanding musical number. Perhaps it was this performance that helped launch Britney's big comeback.

Volleyball Game

Seniors vs. Faculty

Once again, the Seniors took on the WHS Faculty in a battle for glory and fame. Unfortunately, the teachers are taller.

The WHS gym played host to this annual event. Teams of seniors sat and watched their classmates take on their teachers while waiting their turn on the court.

It was tough year for the Senior class to be defeated by their teachers, again! The Senior vs. Staff Volleyball game is a night filled with fun and competition for all of the school to enjoy. Both teams played their heart out and made the crowd laugh. It was a fun chance for the seniors to step up, and even though they were unable to, it was an enjoyable night for everyone who attended.

Teams came dressed in professionally screen printed jerseys and hand-crafted designs. Some even came decked out in '80s attire!

Once again, it was another successful season for the varsity football team, this year fronted by captains Steve Stewart, Mike Manganelli, Anthony Nihan, and Chris Thibault. The Wildcats did not get a share of the league title this year, but they finished the season 9-2 for the third straight year. The Wildcats were led on offense by senior captain quarterback Steve Stewart and junior running back Evan Butters. On defense, the Wildcats were outstanding with senior captain Chris Thibault leading a strong group effort. It was this tough defense that gave the Cats their identity all season. The team had many come-from-behind wins, truly demonstrating how much heart the team had. However, the most exciting moment of the season was when the Cats scored on Hamilton-Wenham in the final minute to erase a one-point deficit and to secure the win. With their winning record, it was truly a memorable season for the Wildcats.

With a young team, the girls worked hard and won key games verse the non-league Salem team and defeated Masconoment for the first time since Jay Keane became the coach. Coach Keane and the girl's varsity basketball team will move up to Division 2 next year and the Wildcats will continue to work hard and keep the program successful.

Boys

The Boys Track Team had a decent season despite losing many outstanding athletes. Coach Cripps and Coach Joe led the team to an overall record of 4-3. Many athletes spent many weekends at the Reggie Lewis Center participating in a variety of meets including the Frosh-Soph meet, State Relays, and Winter Festival. A number of athletes also participated and placed in the CAL, State, and Allstate meets. The 4X400, relay team was an especially successful part of the team as they were one of the best foursome in the state. They went on to win the CAL and State meet, setting new records in both and setting the school record in the process. Underclassmen are encouraged to come out for the team next year and continue the successful tradition.

The mentors and freshmen also teamed up again in the Volleyball Pizza tournament which was very competitive! # Glow Dance

The DECA Club sponsored Wilmington High School's first-ever Glow Dance on Saturday, February 7th.

This year, Wilmington High School hosted the Glow Dance. To support the DECA Club, students came, wore white, and bought glow sticks. All proceeds went to DECA. Students danced and enjoyed dressing informally, while glowing under the black lights.

Whether wearing glow-in-dark painted attire or waving their glow bracelets, the WHS student body had a night to remember!

Cultural Festival

The Foreign Language Club hosted the second Cultural Festival on Thursday, March 12th in the WHS cafeteria.

Visitors at the WHS Cultural Festival had a wide array of foreign foods to try. Here students representing France provided a beautiful spread for people to enjoy.

To celebrate National Foreign Language Month, the Foreign Language Club sponsored its second Culture Festival on the evening of March 12th in the WHS Cafeteria. Students created displays of photos, crafts, foods, and music in order to showcase and celebrate the many cultures represented by students and staff at WHS. There were also individual and group performances in dance, music and skits which highlighted the various traditions of those cultures.

With a Bob Marley lyric as this year's Senior Class saying, it came as no surprise that Jamaica was a popular table to visit at this year's festival.

With its bright colors, boxing kangaroo and didjeridu, the Australian team put together a wonderful display for its tourists. ▶

Norway was well represented at the festival this year—down to the bow-tied braids!

Whether taking the Facing History course or visiting this Armenian festival table, students were able to learn so much about this fascinating country at WHS this year!

While some students set up their displays on tables, other groups were a bit more creative. Nick Monteforte and Julie Gustafson pose in front of this unique presentation.

Michael Anthony Chiricosta

As we look back, the road traveled from pre-school to high school has gone by too quickly for us. We are proud of who you are and your accomplishments. You started as a freshman, slicing some shots and ended as captain, striving for birdies. Michael, you will find no greater supporters than your family, who have been with you every step of the way. As you go off to college, remember, listen to your heart – our futures are defined by our choices and not by chances we may take along the way. Most important, never settle for less than what you know you are worth!

We are very proud of you…now go clean your room!
Love you always… Mom, Dad and Matthew

Anne Marie Souza

Look out world! Here comes Anne Marie! Through good times & bad, I would do it all again to have you in my life. Your inner strength, courage & determination to NEVER give up on your dreams, will never let anything block your way.

I hope, as your mom, I taught you some things that will help you as you set out on your life's journey. You taught me some things as well. Especially! NOT to judge so quickly. People/things aren't always what they seem.

You have a huge heart, full of compassion & empathy. I admire how you gently encourage those not-so-daring to reach for the stars. You once said you didn't understand how people can just "give up" as the beauty in this life is there's always another chance to "do it over." I hope you'll let that fuel your fire for success when life gets overwhelming.

Please know, I will ALWAYS be here for you, no matter how far or close you need me to be, because you are just THAT deep inside my heart. I love you! No matter what! (Even if you need me to drive a half hour in a major snowstorm for THE BEST lemonade..lol) Spread your wings & fly... All my love, Mom

You have grown into such a special person. Because of your endless drive & self-discipline, you have put yourself in a position to succeed. Your future holds endless possibilities. You have brought me a tremendous amount of love & joy. I am so very proud of you. I love you, Dad
